Introduction letter 2020

Unfortunately, the Covid-19 pandemic had almost completely stopped our activities in 2020 but the animal welfare project, continued but in a much-curtailed form. But as the Coronavirus retreated, the foundation resumed all existing activities.

Animal rescue 2020

Angaja Foundation decided to welcome a new furry friend 'Shiv' into their animal shelter in Jaunapur. The puppy was rescued from Sikandarpur in Gurgaon. We brought him to our shelter and got him vaccinated. Earlier he was scared, used to cry and missed his mother a lot. But his indomitable spirit is undying - now he is settled down with his other furry friends, he is comfortable at the shelter and loves to race around in the garden.

During the lockdown, Angaja Foundation's President Ms. Raka Sinha Bal came across three dogs in the area between Sultanpur Estate and Jaunapur. Unfortunately, just like every other distressed stray, they became prey to the mange disease. It is a horrible and painful condition. She gave them medicines and took great care of them. Now all of them are okay and thriving happily.

Innocent animal lives are seen as disposable in our country where even human lives on the streets are not valued. Covid-19 has disrupted our lives and brought hardship and grief to many. It is a tough time for most of us, but we feel that it is even tougher for the helpless and the voiceless. This pandemic has impacted negatively on our animal population. Animals have lost their access to human interaction and most importantly food and water on the streets due to the lockdown. To save these animals, our General Secretary Ms. Raka Sinha Bal has been regularly feeding the cattle and dogs and has also set up water troughs for them in Jaunapur, and also in Gwal Pahari which lies in Gurgaon District of Haryana. We have also been feeding cats, dogs, and cattle in Kotla Mubarakpur, which is a part of South Delhi District.

Maggots are one of the more common problems that dogs face. At Angaja Foundation's shelter, three street dogs living there were affected with deep maggot-infested wounds. It creates severe pain and itching for dogs. Once maggots have been infested, there is trouble in eating, drinking, and just overall pain that the dogs have to endure, and leads to chances of prolonged infections. It is a very terrible experience for the animal as the maggots start eating up the flesh. At the shelter, we take a lot of care of the dogs when they get maggots. Had they been not taken care of properly, maggots would have affected them very seriously and they would have died of septicemia for Kalicharan, one of his ears was damaged with a wound inside eaten away by maggots. The caretaker at the shelter spent a lot of time trying to bring some relief to this sweet boy. He injected the medicine first, removing all the maggots, and then took him to the nearby govt. dispensary where he was given injections for five days.

On 29th June, 2020 an abandoned baby cow was found badly injured in the Jaunapur Farm House Area, ahead of Mehrauli. We are regularly feeding grass, bananas, and water to the cattle in that area as they are abandoned and undernourished. When we found the cow, it had a cut several inches near the neck and there were high chances of it being infested with maggots. We contacted the 'Dhyan Foundation' which is actively working for cows to pick up the cow and keep it where it could be treated and looked after. They came to rescue the cow and it is now recovering in their shelter.

Kisan Andolan 2020- Visit to Singhu Border

Farmer unions have been protesting at different borders near Delhi at Singhu, Tikri, and Ghazipur demanding a rollback of the three new farm laws - Farmers' Produce Trade and Commerce (Promotion and Facilitation) Act, 2020, the Farmers (Empowerment and Protection) Agreement on Price Assurance and Farm Services Act, 2020 and the Essential Commodities (Amendment) Act, 2020. They have traveled from Punjab, Haryana, and Uttar Pradesh in their tractors, trucks and trailers to protest at the borders. At Angaja Foundation, we supported the farmer's protest and visited Singhu border to express solidarity with the farmers and distributed apples and kinnnows to them. Visitors from Delhi are finding it difficult to reach there as the vehicles are being stopped around two km before the protest site. The venue has been closely guarded by the police and paramilitary personnel. We are thankful to the NGO KhalsaAid for working closely with the protestors and helping them with arrangements for food, water and medical facilities. They have also set up semi-permanent shelters, equipped with mattresses, blankets and pillows. For the convenience of farmers, Delhi Government has built bathrooms and toilets there. Also, the Delhi Sikh Gurdwara Management Committee is serving food to the farmers.

We met a small group of farmers who have traveled from Tarn-Taran district of Punjab. They are grateful to all those who have been providing all kinds of help to the protestors for the last two months but now the protest is affecting their livelihood. They have to sustain this until the government repeals the three farm laws.

DCRC Annual Sports Day event at Thyagraj stadium

All of us agree that for children, playing sports is one of the best contributors to experiencing happiness. It has great potential for improving mental health and emotional well-being. On 29th February 2020, Delhi Child Rights Club Sports Day was organized by Butterflies. Ten DCRC organizations participated in the event with a total of 384 children from all the organizations. The event was held at Thyagraj Stadium, New Delhi. The stadium is adjacent to Kotla Mubarakpur. It is a huge stadium, constructed over an area of 16.5 acres with a seating capacity of almost 6,000 people. The day started with children from different organizations assembling at the ground and collecting their bibs as per their age and sex. The children after having their breakfast gathered and ground rules were told to them, followed by group division and warm-up exercises. The ground was divided into 4 parts and as per their groups, they went to their respective areas. The first game was "Passing the Ball". Children with full enthusiasm participated in it and the winning group echoed the ground with their cheers. The next game for the junior age group children was "Ek Phool Do Mali". They energetically played the game enjoying every moment of it whereas for the older group Long Jump competition was organized and they too enjoyed the game especially when their fellow mates fell after the jump. Along with these games, qualifying rounds of 100m race were held for all the age groups. The children also showed their strength by participating in the Tug of War.

After lunch, the children again gathered at the ground and resumed the remaining games. It started with 400 m relay race with older age group children. The highly demanded game of the group was "Kho Kho". All the children were so excited to play the game, they played it with zest and the winning team jumped with cheers and joy.

The most exciting part of the sports day was the final of 100M and 400M relay races and children from each organization supported their participants and cheered for them. As the crowd cheered and supported its team, the entire stadium echoed with voices of children with joy and enthusiasm.

By the end of the day, medals were distributed to all the participants and the final winners of 100 M and 400 M relay races were felicitated with trophies. Arjun from Kalyanpuri won 1st prize in 400 M race and Tushar from Mansarovar Park won 3rd prize in 100 M race.

Everybody enjoyed the day and each child went home wearing a medal. After the prize distribution ceremony, DCRC Sports Day came to an end

Few quotes from the children –

- Khushboo from Kalyanpuri - "I am very happy today as I won a medal for the first time in my life"
- Kuldeep from Kalyanpuri - "All the games are very nice but I like to play football very much. So there should be one football match also"
- Shubham from Sewa Nagar - " I have never entered inside a stadium, I am very happy today as I got the opportunity to play in a stadium"
- Neha from Mansarovar Park - "Such a beautiful day not only for me but for all my friends as everyone got a medal as a token of appreciation for participating in the sports day"
- Tushar from Mansarovar Park - "Along with the medal, I won a trophy too, so today was my lucky day"

Introduction letter 2021

In 2021 we resumed work on our projects: Slum Community Development, education, health, and child protection, animal welfare. Did abundant work and made an exceptional presence in the above sectors, valuable work was done in all the fields. It was a difficult time, but thanks to many years of experience, we were able to get to work right away. Social work in post-Covid times was necessary for the most vulnerable segments of the population. During the year our foundation provided free rations to slum people, organized sports competitions and festival celebrations.

During the pandemic, schools were closed. Parents are uneducated and therefore children were not able to do the online education classes. They have no laptops and computers available at home. Usually there is only one phone being shared by the parents and children and it may not be a smartphone. A proper education is missing from their lives. At the education centers we are trying to fill in this gap. Education focuses on general Knowledge, reading the newspaper, creative activities, indoor and outdoor games, health education and sex education to the adolescent group. These are important activities which focus on the holistic development of body and mind.

Our organization continues to aim towards the following: Youth Empowerment consists of career counseling for boys and girls, Sport club is also on the agenda where boys and adult men of the community play together. A group called Karuna has also been formed with young men and a group called Sakhi has been formed with young women. This meets twice a month. It focuses on employment opportunities, good behavior and their dreams, aspirations, frustrations and problems. Meetings and discussion were held within the framework of the Mahila Panchayats group. The focus of this group is Women Empowerment. It was created for help at the community level and target local disputes over dowry, harassment, domestic violence, eve-teasing, Molestation and stalking. The women are explained how a problem can be solved at the community level instead of going to the police or the courts. Slum communities lack basic information to look into their health and that of their families. A health education curriculum has been developed where every jhuggi is visited by the Project coordinator, information is given on health issues and the health status of the family is ascertained.

Angaja Foundation is an active organization working for the welfare of animals in distress. The organization runs a shelter for the care and protection of dogs in Jaunapur, Delhi, which is located ahead of Andheria Mode. We pick up stray dogs from the streets, send them for sterilization and the animals in need are taken to our shelter. They are taken care of in a good environment and proper food, water and medical care is provided to them. There are 50 dogs in the shelter. We are also feeding cows and keeping water troughs for cows and other animals. Also, citizens who find wounded animals and birds contact us asking for help. Our coordinators also visited many dairy farms in Delhi and NCR during the year to analyse the condition of the farms and the cattle. The dairies do not have free space for animals. They do not let allow their cattle to move freely without being tethered. Most of the dairies have weekly doctor visits to check up on the condition of the cattle. A few dairies were dirty, although the animals were being given proper food and drinking water.

Angaja Foundation's initiative to visit Gaushalas is to check whether proper shelter, veterinary care, feed and water is provided for the thousands of cows living in these shelters. We also visit stables all over Delhi where horses which are used in weddings are kept, to ascertain whether they are getting proper food and about their health status and that they are not being ill.
